

Anything is possible for your student with the right tools, resources, and your support. This new update for parents and tutors will help you work together to support and celebrate your child.

What Is Your Student Up To?

Here's more information about what happened in December tutoring sessions so you can follow up!

LIT Parents

Talk to your students about the books they are reading during tutoring, the new words they are learning, and how their writing is coming along.

SMART Parents

Your students recently completed a series of phonics and math facts assessments. Ask your student how they did and check in with your student's tutor if you need answers.

All SMART students also completed Tutoring Chicago's first social emotional learning unit on the topic of "confidence." Ask about your students' self portraits, timelines, and the videos they watched.

7th Grade Parents

Last week, students participated in technology workshops in hosted sessions. Ask about what they learned and questions they still have.

They also learned study skills, such as planning ahead and organization. Ask why these are important and which of their habits have changed since learning these skills.

Spread Holiday Joy!

Would you please take a photo or video when your child opens his/her holiday gifts from Tutoring Chicago? Email photos and/or videos here or text 312-300-0549.

We'd love to share their reactions with Tutoring Chicago partners and donors and spread the joy!

Plan For The Holiday Break

Learning Resources

Don't let your child fall behind over the upcoming holiday break. We've got you covered! Use these resources to help your student stay sharp!

These are the same resources they use during tutoring sessions. They can also be used anytime if your student needs more practice with reading or math.

Mark Your Calendar

Tutoring Chicago will not host tutoring sessions between December 16th - January 3rd. We encourage everyone to take a break and look forward to tutoring resuming on January 4th, 2021!

7th grade parents, your next hosted sessions are during the week of January 4th - 6th.

All parents, find your full calendar here. Tutors, find your program-specific calendars in your Google Classrooms.

Watch 7th grader Christopher R. thank his tutors for helping him in reading!

Student Spotlight

Every month, we'll feature some of your hardworking students in this section. Please take the time to celebrate their accomplishments together! If you don't see your student's name now, different children will be featured every month, so keep working hard!

This month, 132 students mastered their multiplication math facts! See a full list of these whiz kids here and celebrate!
